Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written on aged, yellowed paper with some damage and staining. The script is dense and fills most of the page.

Handwritten text at the top of the page, possibly a title or header, including the word "Epistola".

Main body of handwritten text in a medieval script, consisting of several lines of dense, cursive writing.

A distinct block of handwritten text, possibly a separate section or a specific entry, located in the lower middle part of the page.

Final block of handwritten text at the bottom of the page, including some legible words like "omni" and "sancti".

Handwritten text at the top of the page, possibly a title or header, including the word "Свѣдѣніе" (Evidence/Statement).

Main body of handwritten text in Church Slavonic script, consisting of approximately 25 lines. The text is dense and includes various religious or legal terms.

Second section of handwritten text at the bottom of the page, continuing the narrative or list of items.
